

SISTERS

SCENE 1

LIDELLE: You really can't get the staff these days, can you?

ALDIA: Sometimes I wonder what we actually pay them for.

LIDELLE: We don't pay them...

ALDIA: (delighted) Oh yeah!

They giggle girlishly

Come Sissy, let's shop til we drop.

LIDELLE: Lets!

They make to leave.

Oh... and by the way, don't think we haven't noticed.

ALDIA: We know you're there

LIDELLE: We can sniff out a poor person from a mile away.

ALDIA: And with this many of you, the odour is hard to ignore.

LIDELLE: Hello little people, bigger little people

ALDIA: You're all small to us. Now have you met that awful little brat Cinderella yet?

LIDELLE: Well, we just want you to remember, when it comes to picking sides, it pays to back the winners.

ALDIA: Cinderella may have charmed you with her squeaky little voice and below average looks, but we will come out on top.

LIDELLE: No happily ever after.

ALDIA: So if you don't want to leave here in two hours feeling miserably depressed, you'll just have to admit to yourselves

BOTH: That we're the ones you've come to see aren't we

Oh yes we are etc

Rubbish!

SCENE 2

ALDIA: Cinderella, a quick word before you go.

CINDERELLA stops and doubles back to join the sisters.

CINDERS: Yes?

ALDIA: Seems you have some friends in this house.

LIDELLE: And we just want you to know, that we aren't some of them.

ALDIA: We're not happy about you going to the ball

LIDELLE: Not one bit.

ALDIA: You're an embarrassment

LIDELLE: A joke

ALDIA: A stain on our image.

LIDELLE: But you've got your invitation haven't you.

ALDIA: And that's all that matters. Are you happy Cinderella?

CINDERS: Yes!

LIDELLE: Very happy?

CINDERS: More than you could ever imagine!

LIDELLE: Good.

ALDIA: (Together) Now tear it up.

LIDELLE:

CINDERS: What?

ALDIA: (Together) Tear. It. Up.

LIDELLE:

CINDERELLA looks from one to the other in disbelief!

ALDIA: (Together) Now!

LIDELLE:

CINDERELLA tearfully rips up her invitation

LIDELLE: Did you really think we would get you come with us?

ALDIA: (Together) You will NOT be going to the ball!

LIDELLE:

They laugh joyously as ALDIA and LIDELLE exit.
